ENGINEER'S REPORT.

To the Voters and Taxpayers of Somersworth:

There have been five alarms during the year in this town, four of which were false alarms. On January 14, 1893, at 11.15, P. M., an alarm was sounded and the fire proved to be in the Andrews Building on Washington Street. There was no insurance on the building. On Samuel Young's saloon there was insurance to the amount of $1000, and he received $934 in settlement of the damages to his property. There was $800 insurance on Napoleon Daigle's meat market, and he received $200 in settlemen for damages. At this fire the department did good work, and the standpipe, with its powerful pressure, proved itself to be a valuable addition to our fire defences.

When I assumed the duties of Chief Engineer in April, 1892, there was not a sound hydrant-box or hydrant in the town. I found the hydrants all in a leaky condition. I looked them over, figured up the expense of taking up, repairing and putting down again, and found that to do so would involve an expense very nearly equal to the cost of new hydrants. Therefore I bought sixteen "Wood" hydrants of Philadelphia, and set fourteen of them, each one having a steamer connection. That leaves two more hydrants to be set. One should be placed at the junction of Beacon and Prospect streets, opposite the Buffum house, and the other should be placed on Green Street near the residence of James A. Locke.

The steamer connections are a valuable feature of these hydrants. Heretofore if a big fire had set in and we had been obliged to call upon Dover or Portsmouth for assistance, the steamers could not have connected with our hydrants, and there would have been no water for them to draw upon, except in cisterns and wells, which could in any neighborhood have been emptied with a few strokes of the steamer pumps. Now, however, with these connections on the hydrants, steamers can get an ample supply of water, and that defect in our hydrant system is removed.

I desire to make some recommendations which have suggested themselves to me during my term as Chief Engineer. In all communities the matter of fire defences is an important one, not only in view of the protection of property already located, but as an encouragement, or a deterrent, to the location of new property in such communities. The question of insurance rates in a town is largely settled by the efficiency of its fire department, and the matter of insurance rates and protection from fire are by no means small inducements to outside people to locate new business in town.

With a view, therefore, to placing our department on a high plane of efficiency I would recommend the following changes therein : Disband engine companies Nos. 1 and 4, and sell their hand-tubs for what they will bring; make the houses occupied by Alert Hose Co., No. 2, and Rescue Hook and Ladder Co., No. 1, into one building large enough to keep and maintain therein a first-class steamer with a company of 25 men, a hose company and a hook and ladder company. I would recommend the purchase of a first-class steamer for this building, and a village steamer of the second class to be kept in the house of Conqueror 4 on Prospect Hill. Also, I would recommend that there be a hose company with headquarters in the house of Deluge, No. 1. There is now about 2500 feet 2 1-2 inch, or steamer, hose. There should be purchased some 3000 feet more, and then, with a few minor improvements, the fire department of Somersworth will be equipped in splendid shape to fight fires for years to come. In my opinion, too, the changes suggested would make our fire department a more economically, as well as more effectively, conducted organization than it is in its present cumbersome, antiquated form.

Respectfully submitted,

E. P. HORN.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Somersworth Board of Health

FOR THE YEAR 1892–'93.

During the year, ending February 6, 1893, there have been reported to the Board of Health 9 cases of contagious diseases: 8 being typhoid fever, and one scarlet fever; 3 of the typhoid fever cases were fatal. We are glad to say that not one case of diphtheria has been reported during the past year.

Early in the year the Board adopted a code of sanitary regulations which were posted conspicuously, and for a considerable time published in the "Free Press." There have been fifteen written, and a greater number of verbal complaints made to the Board for violations of the provisions of the Regulations. The practice has been for some, or all the members of the Board to personally investigate all localities complained of, abate nuisances and generally to exact obedience to the Regulations.

While much improvement has been made in the sanitary condition of the town during the past year, we believe that the Board for the year ensuing will find abundant work to be done; certain localities are a nuisance to the public health, and will, in some degree at least, continue to be so until the system of sewers can be properly flushed and made to fulfil the office for which they were constructed.

Respectfully.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Superintending School Committee

OF DISTRICT NO. 3,

TOWN OF SOMERSWORTH,

FOR SCHOOL YEAR 1892-'93.

The statistical table herewith submitted will afford comparative information to the people of the district as to the matters of teachers and their salaries, number of pupils in all the schools and the number pursuing the various studies taught; we think that a comparison with the tables of former years will show a satisfactory growth and condition.

No changes have been made in either the High or Grammar schools, and in both these departments the work of the year has been highly satisfactory, with every element present to warrant the belief that the new year will be quite as successful as the past.

The first primary school in the Orange Street Building has been in charge of Miss Mary E. Coffey of Plymouth, a graduate of the New Hampshire Normal School, and a teacher of exceptional ability and success; no other changes have been made in the corps of teachers in the Orange Street Building.

In the third primary in Union Street Building, Miss Kate J. Merrill of Columbia, also a Normal graduate, was the teacher for the second term, and her success was very gratifying to parents and Committee, but ill health compelled her to resign near the beginning of the winter term; Miss Ola Hubbard of Walpole, a graduate of the same Normal School, is the present teacher and her work promises to sustain the high reputation of the Normal School, established during the year by the teachers already mentioned.

All other teachers in Union Street Building remain as reported last year, and the Committee feels that the work in the primary grades is superior to the last, or any previous year; there seems to be a degree of emulation among the teachers which has not been noticeable in former years, and which is in every way commendable.

The experience of the year has certainly taught one lesson which should be recognized by all those who would become teachers in the public schools, and that is the advantage, if not the necessity, of a special training for the work; the results of one's unaided experience in the school room, except in rare instances, are not apt to furnish the best knowledge of modern methods of instruction, perhaps for the reason that no other occupation presents so great a temptation to discharge one's duties in a perfunctory, tread-mill fashion, as does the profession of the teacher; fortunately the days of "keeping school" are past and the modern teacher is expected and required to bring to the work a knowledge of the methods and experience of our progressive modern educators.

Another fact has been impressed upon the Committee during the year, and one which has been the source of no little perplexity. We do not pay salaries which will insure either the best or the most economical work; we can secure the best only by paying salaries equal to those paid by other cities and towns which have public school systems that are compared with our own; this is especially true in the primary grades, and the school authorities for the coming year should be empowered to correct the matter.

In accordance with the recommendation in last year's report, the Committee has provided during a portion of the year, special instruction in Drawing for all the teachers. Mrs. Blaisdell, the teacher of Drawing in the Dover schools, has met our teachers once each week and given them instruction, which has already caused a marked improvement in the teaching of that branch in our schools.

The grounds of the Union Street Building have been graded, concrete walks laid and a block granite wall built around the lot, so that the surroundings of that building have been made to appear appropriate and attractive. Of the extraordinary expenses, the principal item was incurred in repairing the heating apparatus of the Union Street Building, which froze up during the extremely cold weather of the last days of December.

The buildings and other property of the District are in thorough repair, and, so far as can be seen, will require no addition, alteration or extensive repair for some time to come.

In conclusion it may be said that the schools, as well as all the affairs of the District are in as good condition as they have ever been known, and the Committee can see no reason why the coming year may not be highly prosperous and successful.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ERRATA.

The item of $200 on page 44, for interest on $8000 raised for payment of old bills, should be on page 71 charged to account of orders drawn for interest.

On page 72, account of School District No. 3, the item $7680.48 should read $6280.48, and the sum of $1400.00 paid School Board for teachers' salaries should be carried to page 47 and charged to account of old bills, making the footing $1656.07, instead of $256.07.

To The Citizens of The Town School District:

The first term of school No. 1 was taught by Miss Ina Cheney. The scholars made good progress considering the small number and irregular attendance. The first part of the second term was taught by Miss Lulu Head, with fair progress. The last part of the term was taught by an experienced teacher, Miss Alice Andrews, with good success.

School No. 2 was taught by Miss Grace B. Henderson, who was a graduate of the Dover High School. Both scholars and teacher were faithful in their duties.
